France Watches The Disturbances In Paris
With Bated Breath Today.

TROOPS READY FOR EMERGENCY

Boston, Chicago And Duluth All Have Minor Difficulties
With Organized Labor--Great Lakes Strike Is On.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, May 1.—May Day opened with detachments of cavalry and infantry scattered throughout Paris and the outskirts. The troops are ready for any emergency and will not fail to act in preserving peace. Already hundreds of arrests have been made in the Place de la Republique, where thousands of workmen gathered early. The workmen are sullen and appear to fear the soldiers.

Expel Anarchists

So thorough has been the work of the police that all the leading anarchists have either been expelled from the city or arrested. Among those driven out are Stephan Guezioff and one woman, whose name is not given. M. Leavy, secretary of the Confederation of Labor, and M. Fromentin, a wealthy anarchist, have been arrested. The delegates to all the trades are assembling at the labor headquarters and trouble is feared later in the city.

Charge the Crowds

A 3:55 p. m. a squad of cavalry charged the manifestants on the Place de la Republique, forcing the rioters towards St. Martin canal. Fifty additional arrests were made. At Brest the strikers, carrying a black flag, were charged by the police and a severe fight followed. The flag was seized and many arrests were made.

Holding Meeting

Paris, May 1, 4:30 p. m.—Six thousand strikers are holding a meeting at the labor exchange and the same number are assembled at the headquarters of the Confederation of Labor. The military have surrounded the building and await the exit of the strikers. The prefect of Leveque is outside the consuls and is calm.

All sections of the country were well represented at the opening of the twentieth annual congress of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, which will continue through today.

GEN. HORACE PORTER RECEIVES RARE HONOR

Former Ambassador to Spain Thanked by Congress for Recovering Body of John Paul Jones.

Washington, May 1.—Gen. Horace Porter, late ambassador to France and recoverer of the body of John Paul Jones, Monday received tribute in the house of representatives, both in words and in the unanimous adoption of a resolution extending him the thanks of congress and of the people of the country for the recovery of the body of the century dead admiral.

The thanks of congress are reserved to be extended only on very rare occasions and consequently at long intervals. The last time such action was taken, Admiral Dewey was honored. The battle of Manila bay had just been fought and the country warmly applauded the resolutions then passed. Aside from thanks to army and navy heroes, the last resolution of this character was passed during the civil war when Commodore Vanderbilt was thanked for presenting a ship to the nation. Henry M. Stanley also received the honor as reward for his scientific explorations in Africa.

The thanks of congress carry the privilege of the floor of both senate and house for all time to the recipient. Representative Olmsted, of Pennsylvania, in whose district Gen. Porter makes his home, initiated the resolution and obtained unanimous consent for its consideration. Representative William Alden Smith, of Michigan, had introduced a similar resolution, and Representative Rainey, the only Democratic member in the house from Illinois, stated that he had prepared a resolution honoring Gen. Porter.

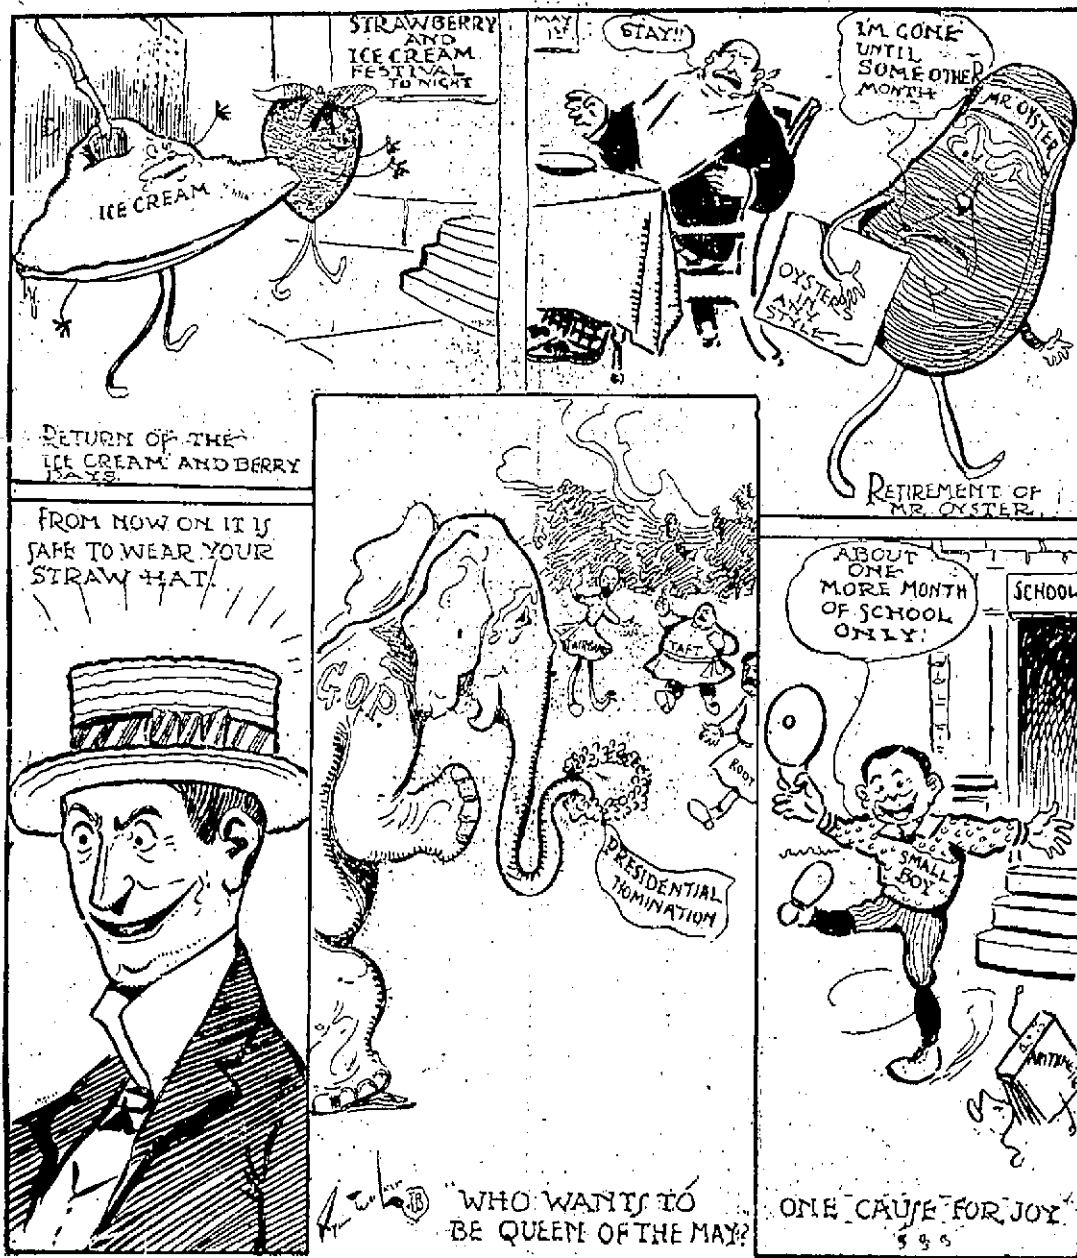

As an added compliment, Gen. Porter was asked, in an amendment to the resolution, to furnish for publication in the Congressional Record a copy of his speech at the recent exercises at Annapolis.

The house committee on library made a favorable report on a senate bill appropriating $50,000 for a pedestal to a monument to John Paul Jones, to be erected in the grounds of the congressional library, adjacent to the capitol.

FACULTY WILL ELIMINATE ALL HAZING IN THE FUTURE

Are Aroused By The Recent Disgraceful Scenes Enacted By The Freshmen.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 1.—The outrages perpetrated upon Joseph R. Pfiffer of Stevens Point, a freshman in the University of Wisconsin, have brought the faculty to a determination to eliminate hazing entirely from this university. He was looked upon as an unamiable and obnoxious student and members of his own class administered a lesson in the form of hair cutting in front of a sorority house, a shampoo of iodine and then a ducking in Lake Mendota. This is the first of the annual spring hazing escapades. A member of the faculty said that the authorities were determined that it should be the last. The ringleader of the crowd that hazed Pfiffer was a member of the freshman crew and one of the students who is eating at the subterfuge training table. It is expected that he will be suspended as soon as the investigation now in progress develops sufficiently.

MORE POLITICS DISCUSSED BY THE POLITICIANS NOW

New Candidates For State Officers Appear As If By Magic--The Fight
Is On.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 1.—Another republican candidate for state office has appeared in Assemblyman George E. Beedle of Embarrass, Waupaca county, who seeks the nomination of commissioner of insurance to succeed Zeno M. Host. Mr. Beedle is a lumberman and was chairman of the assembly committee on lumbering and mining. He is a member of the legislative committee now investigating Wisconsin life insurance companies. He came to Madison Monday from Milwaukee, where the committee is working, had a conference with Speaker Lenroot and confided to his friends at the capitol that he had determined to shortly make formal announcement of his candidacy. Thomas M. Purcell of Madison, deputy commissioner of insurance, is also a candidate for this office which will be vacated by Commissioner Host next January. There is developing two factions in the La Follette republican ranks in Wisconsin, one headed by Governor Davidson and the other by Speaker Lenroot, both candidates for governor. The Lenroot faction is inclined to keep up the fight waged by Senator La Follette for a dozen years, and the Davidson faction seems inclined to let the duel be over. However, the recent platform announced by Governor Davidson gives absolutely no promise of surrendering any of the principles contended for by La Follette.

CONSIDERABLE QUESTION AS TO REAL SITUATION

Czar May Accept Witte's Resignation And
He May Refuse It Entirely.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Petersburg, May 1.—Yesterday the Emperor may have decided to accept Premier Witte's resignation, but until the fact is published in the official Messenger nothing is absolutely certain. You can say, however, that Witte desires to go. He is worn out with the struggle. Nevertheless the situation at Tsarsko-Selo changes with such unexpected rapidity that a few hours may see the official promulgation of Witte's retirement or on the contrary the dismissal of Minister of the Interior Durnovo. The above is the authoritative statement made to the Associated Press today. The moment is certainly very critical.

Washington, D. C.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Cotton growers, manufacturers and traders thronged the assembly room of the New Willard hotel today at the opening of what is probably the most important cotton conference ever held in this country. These in attendance represented the cotton growers of the south, the manufacturers of this country and Europe and the cotton exchanges of New York, New Orleans and Liverpool. Representatives of the department of agriculture also were present. The purpose of the conference, which will be in session two days, is to bring about closer relations between the producers and spinners and at the same time to confer on matters of mutual interest, covering every department of cotton growing and marketing and manufacturing.

Cotton production was the general topic of consideration at the initial session this morning. He admits that he is a Jew, but claims that he is not a Jew, because he is spelt in being out of the Jew. He also remarks incidentally in passing that our paragraph was a direct lie. We were further informed that there was a case of that sort which we alluded to by a "Jew" shaking by the collar. Feeling no desire to

A Corporation W. a Soul—The "Daily Gazette" says that corporations have no souls. More than we wish it was, but nevertheless, we locally find corporations whose managers are so liberal and noble minded that it is a pleasure to take favorable mention of their actions. In case in point has just come to our knowledge. The Rev. W. Russell, who arrived here from London, on Thursday last, with twenty orphan boys for whom he was in search of homes, informs us that no where on the route did he meet with such kindness as the part of railroad men was shown to him and his little party by Mr. DuPont and Mr. Hobart of the North Western. Mr. DuPont generously passed the whole party through free to this city, and a-aid Mr. Russell that if it was necessary to go farther north in disposing of the helpless little flock, that it should cost them nothing. Mr. Hobart also assisted the efforts of the Superintendent by giving the party his personal attention while in Chicago, in that effective and unobtrusive manner that is characteristic of him. Over all the road Mr. Russell had to say "I am for all of little folks, and he goes back to Boston with the impression that the railroads in the west are only doing up the country but do not open them at the time.

Stock, C. B. Conrad, August, and George Croft, were found to be in the form and approved. A resolution, adopted by Chairman Bro. Conrad, the committee on parks and passed provides for the employment of 100 men, Croft and William P. others to take care of the park during the season at $40 a month each. By an order $100 was appropriated to be expended by the committee in beautifying the park by purchasing a new lawn-mower. J. D. Merrill said that his ordinance, providing for a sidewalk inspector in each ward did not appear to meet with favor and intimated that he would not press it, at the same time suggesting that an assistant street-cleaning inspector be appointed to supervise this work be appointed at once. Mayor Hutchinson said that, if he were to make an appointment, it would be Thomas McKee. Ald. Dulin moved the appointment be confirmed. Motion carried. Ald. Hager voting "No."

Salary List Caused Anguish

After the report on bills had been passed upon, the Council submitted the salary list, augmented by appropriation, of $8 each, for the "junior aldermen" for their services at the previous meeting. He said that the committee had not received any compensation, themselves, and Alderman Fish voted a "bitter" "No" when the matter was discussed by the Council. There is some genuine dissatisfaction with the way the "new regime" of salaries is working out in its operation, and the law is to be carefully investigated for a possible loophole which will make it possible to pay the mayor his $300 and the holders of their $50. The injustice was said Ald. Fish, partly and under stress of feeling he declared that he would attend no more meetings if the thing couldn't be equalized. The declaration, of course, not to be taken seriously.

Junk Ordinance Passed

With a number of amendments, an ordinance regulating junk dealers, pawnbrokers, and merchants in second-hand merchandise, has been before the Council at some time, was finally put on passage. It provides license fees of $50 for pawnbrokers, $25 for junk men, and $1 for second-hand dealers. Merchants in second-hand furniture are exempted in the provisions which require all men pursuing the above-mentioned vocations to submit to the city marshal before noon each day a full report of all merchandise purchased during the preceding 24 hours together with minute descriptions of the sellers. No article can be bought of any person intoxicated, or any child under sixteen years of age. A $500 bond is required of these merchants and the penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine of from $5 to $50.

Dr. E. D. Roberts Re-appointed

Dr. E. D. Roberts' term as a member of the fire and police commission having expired, he was re-appointed by the mayor and the council confirmed the selection. The request of Mr. Fisher, representing the General Block Co. for permission to extend the railway track on South Main street so as to make it more easily available for their yards, could not be acted upon as it was not in ordinance form. There was discussion but no action on the proposition to put a small crew at work at the stone crusher at once to supply crushed stone for repairs prior to the regular work of macadamizing streets. The highway committee was directed to investigate needed repairs on the road leading to the crusher. A committee consisting of Aldermen Brockhaus and Dulin was appointed to investigate the needs of the detention hospital which is reported to be in bad repair.

Signs for the Streets

H. W. Zwalow and George L. Biesinger, Mormon elders, were given permission to preach on the streets under the supervision of the police department. A permit was granted the Lewis Knitting Co. to build a one-story 50x17 temporary frame structure within the five limits. The request of A. R. Bronson for permission to build a 5x10 addition to the house at 107 West street was laid over two weeks. By an order it was directed that a $166 rebate in taxes be allowed P. J. Holland for an error in assessment. Alderman Fish announced that 700 street signs could be procured at 25 cents apiece and that cement posts, as many as should be needed, could be purchased for $1.80 apiece. Again the council took no action to present disapproval lack of guide-boards on the highways.

Cape Top $100 Extra Canopy Top with Glass Front $100 Extra
A machine perfectly suited to American conditions

- Reasons:
1. Its axle and driving mechanism clear the rigger that lie between runs made by wagon wheels.
 2. It has the power to carry you as fast as you wish to go—faster than the law will allow.
 3. Its working parts are simple, durable and easy to get at. Anyone can quickly understand and take care of them.
 4. It has full elliptic springs, large, fine hand-buffed leather seats, ample space for luggage carried on ordinary tours, and other provisions for comfort.
 5. The engine is so balanced and rigidly braced that with the balance of the joints and connecting rods vibration is reduced to the minimum.
 6. It is admittedly one of the three or four most beautiful cars of the year, with double side entrance, and other features demanded by those with whom style is an important feature.
 7. No automobile is operated so easily and mutually. After all, this is the greatest pleasure of automobile ownership. To have the great power of the engine respond to the movement of a lever, to stop the forward motion and reverse with the pressure of a foot, and to control both the speed and the direction of the car at the same instant with only one hand on the throttle and steering wheel—these are advantages not found in any other automobile.

In the trade of the United States with Argentina, the percentage of its imports supplied from this country is comparatively small, being but about thirteen per cent of its total imports, while we supply thirty-six per cent of the imports of Venezuela, thirty-four per cent of those of Colombia, twenty-nine per cent of those of British Guiana, twenty-five per cent of those of Ecuador, eighteen per cent of those of Peru, and fifteen per cent of those of the Dutch West Indies. The South American countries whose percentages of imports from the United States are less than that of Argentina are: Brazil, which takes but eleven per cent of her imports from us;
Chile, eight and one-half per cent;
Uruguay, eight and one-half per cent;
Bolivia, six and two-thirds per cent, and Paraguay, three and one-half per cent. The total imports of all South America, are, in round terms, four hundred and fifty million dollars, of which the United States supplies about thirteen per cent, and the total exports of all South America are six hundred and thirty million dollars, of which the United States takes about twenty-two per cent.

Naturally the United States takes a small percentage of the exports of Argentina, since the products of that country for exportation are largely of the same character as those of the United States, namely, wheat, corn, and meats, our chief importations from Argentina being wool, seven and one-half million dollars, and hides and skins, five millions. The United States takes less than four per cent of the exports of Argentina and supplies thirteen per cent of her imports.
The bulk of Argentina's imports are drawn from European countries; her own figures of imports for 1905 showing the total importation from the United Kingdom to be sixty-six million dollars, from Germany, twenty-eight millions; from the United States, a little less than twenty-eight millions; from France, over twenty millions, and Italy, nineteen, and one-half millions. The principal imports of Argentina are textiles, wearing apparel, manufactures of iron and steel, manufactures of wood, pottery, glass, chemicals, mineral oils, paper, and tobacco. Of iron and steel manufactures, mineral oil, and tobacco the United States supplies a fair share, but in other articles, especially toxiles, the proportion drawn from the United States is very small.

Taking our own figures of exports to Argentina, agricultural implements amounted in 1905 to five million dollars, against a little more than one million dollars in 1904; manufactures of iron and steel, nearly six million dollars, against but about a half million dollars in 1904; mineral oils, nearly two and one-half million dollars, against less than one million dollars in 1904; and wood and manufactures thereof, about three and one-half millions, against less than one million dollars in 1904.

PRESS COMMENT.

They Appreciate It.

Milwaukee News: It is lots of fun to make a garden and besides, the neighbors' chickens lay better when they have a soft place in which to scratch.

If We Had It Wouldn't Help.

Chicago Tribune: Have you any idea of the number of by-products of coal tar you are in the habit of eating with your daily food?

Dowie's Patent Mother Hubbard.

Chicago News: Dowie will be able to impress many of his followers with the idea that he is the goods unless some rude court should attach his mother Hubbard.

Queer Bait For Population.

Madison Democrat: If Madison fails to achieve that 40,000 mark it will not be for want of toasting and banqueting. A pull together is desirable, indispensable.

Opinion Of The Expatriated.

Exchange: William Waldorf Astor
despairs of San Francisco's future, but as this is his attitude toward the rest of the United States it is entirely superfluous for him to say so.

Just As Simple.

El Paso Herald: Battered down, the scientific explanation of earthquakes is that there is something peculiar about the earth which makes it quake. See what a scientific education will do for a man.

Ask Yourself!

Milwaukee Journal: What's an old fellow? Why, he is one who thinks that anybody much younger than he is a damphool, who can not possibly have any sense, and should not be trusted with anything. Are you an ancient?

He Thrives On Snubs.

Oshkosh Northwestern: In the opinion of The Chicago News the other senators have really given Senator La Follette an unintentional "boost" in their efforts to ignore him.
And La Follette is just the one to take advantage of it, too.

Big Hit With Five-Syllablers.

Eau Claire Leader: Senator La Follette does not consider those three days wasted even if the senate did not listen. From Oconomowoc and other five-syllable towns in Wisconsin orders for little Bob's speech have been coming in like demands for free seeds.

His Was "Heather Dew."

Milwaukee Journal: Dowie, in an interview yesterday, described Zion as "a pretty piece of land midway between Beer and Babel—(Milwaukee and Chicago)." The discoverer in Dowie's retreat showed that his was Scottish, hence his contempt.

Our Fair-Minded President.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Everybody admits that President Roosevelt is an honest man, but he has never thrown mud. He is seldom heard to denounce men in public life as thieves. He seems to have the idea that the average man is a pretty good citizen, and will do right if he has half a chance.

Has It Located At Last.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The next scandal to fill the newspapers is that of the Chicago drainage trustees.

Beet Sugar Product.

Exchange: President Roosevelt has transmitted to congress the annual report on the beet sugar industry of the United States during 1905, prepared by Charles F. Saylor, special agent of the department of agriculture. The report says the acreage of beets harvested during 1905 was 307,304, with an average yield of 5.07 tons per acre. The aggregate manufacture was 312,920 short tons, or 625,841,238 pounds.

She Euthered The "Famine."

Oshkosh Northwestern: It always pays to retain your presence of mind, no matter what happens. There was the woman in San Francisco, for instance, who hastened to fill her bath tub with fresh water as soon as she realized the cause of the recent disturbance, and for nearly three days she and her neighbors had water to drink when nearly every one else was famished for something to quench their aching thirst.

No Surprise To Mary.

Everybody's Magazine: Mrs. M's patience was much tried by a servant who had a habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day as the maid waited upon table her mouth open as usual, her mistress, giving a savor, look said:

"Mary, your mouth is open." "Yessum," replied Mary. "I opened it."

A Non-Explosive Catch.

El Paso Herald: Once in a while you find a Russian official who does something adroit—this time it was a garrison commander in Poland who caught a bomb thrown at him and landed it gently but non-explosively.
The incident tends to show that a baseball education is a good thing for a man serving an autocracy.

She came to have some of her aching teeth extracted.
She evidently got the work done all satisfactory because just before leaving for home she said to a friend:
"Dr. Richards does just as they told me he did."
"He really took out five teeth for me WITHOUT HURTING ONE BIT."
"I had suffered something fierce with my teeth all winter and dreaded the ordeal awfully."
"But it was nothing at all."
"I shall always come to Dr. Richards for my dental work."
Such comments occur every day regarding Dr. Richards' practice, because he makes a specialty of PAIN-LESS DENTISTRY.

BUSY WITH WORKMEN.
SAND HILLS ARE DOTTED Products Being Turned Out in Many Different Forms of Cement Work.
Where five years ago the immense sand hills on the Southern edge of the city were almost unused now there are five manufacturing plants on them as the source of the material which forms the principal ingredient of their products. The Rock County Concrete Block Co. has just installed a new Victor Concrete Machine. This machine enables them to do a large part of the work that has been formerly done by hand to be done by power. It allows just the right proportion of the sand and cement to run into the mixer, where it is mixed with water and then packed in the mould. By the use of this machine they hope to increase to a much greater capacity the work they have been doing. This company will erect the new Park Hotel front which will be beautified by six massive concrete pillars. A large store at Brooklyn, Wis., is also being built of this material.
Granite Brick Co. is also running a full force and are now putting out nearly twenty thousand brick a day. These bricks are being shipped to Chicago, Milwaukee and Rockford in carload lots and are nearly marble color and will undoubtedly make a beautiful residence or office block.
The New Factory
The new cement post factory which moved here last year is putting out a round post which is strengthened by two wooden sticks which are to take the place of the iron brace which was formerly in use. This post is manufactured by machine power and they claim that when they are running at full blast, which they expect to do in a short time, that they can make these at a rate of one every minute.
At Cement Post
The Janesville Cement Post factory has just completed a large order and have received an order from the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric Co. for posts to be used on the new electric line between those two points, which will keep them busy for some time.

WILY LEASER NOT YET IN THE TOILS
Sheriff Wires Chief Appleby for Additional Information Regarding Him.
Sheriff Cochran wired from Chicago this morning for more information regarding R. T. Leaser, the book-agent who is alleged to have fleeced a number of trusting people in Janesville. He has not yet succeeded in capturing the man. Among the people who are probable losers is Sanford Sovorhill who gave Leaser a check for $35.50 three weeks ago and has not received any books. A C. Hough is said to have given Leaser a check for $35 made out to John Wanamaker or bearer and this was cashed at Curtis & Kimball's place, the same evening as the forged check purporting to be from Rev. Denison. The Merchants & Mechanics' bank cashed it for the firm and the Bower City bank on whom it was drawn honored it for the Merchants & Mechanics' bank. Now the Bower City bank in behalf of its depositor asks Curtis & Kimball to make good. Inasmuch as the check was bona fide they do not hold themselves liable and will probably stand suit if it is brought. As far as can be learned the only set of books delivered was to William Squires at the Hotel Myers. Only $5 was paid on this and the John Wanamaker firm will have to settle its agent's hotel bill before it will be able to collect for the books.

THE WEATHER

A Kissing Duel.
At some amateur theatricals in Victoria two people in the stalls, whenever the heroine was kissed, kissed each other loudly and with ostentation. It turned out that the man in the audience was the husband of the heroine, who disapproved of her theatrical tastes, and (with the help of an amiable friend) took this way of reproving them.

TELLS OF QUAKE AT LONG BEACH, CALIF.
Shock Was Nothing More Than a Tremor Acting Like a Clap of Thunder.
Below is reproduced a letter from Long Beach, Calif., telling of the earthquake which was felt there:
"In view of the fact that so many false reports have been circulated concerning the recent earthquake at San Francisco and the number of people in southern California from Janesville and vicinity, I thought I would send you a true statement of the case for publication in the Janesville paper, that people there need not worry about the safety of their friends here.
"Los Angeles county has never lost a life nor a dollar from earthquakes, and the tremor felt here in this last earthquake did not jar the houses any worse than a severe thunder-clap would. We are over five hundred miles from the center of the disturbance.
"The loss of life and property in this disaster, represents almost the entire loss from the elements which has occurred in over 100 years, while in the eastern states five years' record of cyclones would total the same amount.
"All southern California is perfectly safe and anyone having friends or property here need not worry at all.
"Yours very respectfully,
"NELLIE M. WILBUR SPENCER,

MUCH GOOD DONE
BY LITTLE RAIN
Meadows Will Be Given a Good Start and Newly Planted Seeds Will Germinate.
Though much more rain could have fallen without doing a bit of harm, the little that came out of the skies this morning will prove of unmeasured benefit. The meadows, which have thus far been very backward, will be given a good start and crops that are not planted deep will be helped. The dust in the roads, which has been a drawback to both driving and autoing in the country and city, was also settled.

ELECTRIC "CAR-STOP" SIGNALS AT COUNTRY
INTERURBAN STATIONS
Patrons Will No Longer Have to "Build Fires" in order to Catch Cars.
An improvement has been made along the route of the electric line between Rockford and Janesville. Heretofore it has been necessary for patrons to light matches or papers at the stopping places at night, in order that the cars might be stopped. Now electric globes have been placed on the poles at the regular stopping place, and a string drops down and the patron by pulling this string throws the light on, and gives the motorman the signal at a good distance away.

FIRE STARTED FROM THE CAPING GAS
Former Superintendent of Janesville Street Railway Tells of 'Frisco Horror.
W. R. Proud, former superintendent of the Janesville Street Railway, but more as Superintendent of The Electric Street Battery company at San Francisco, has written to his old friend, James Mills, of the recent disastrous fire at the coast metropolis and suburbs. The letter is as follows:
"Dear Dr. Mills—Very safe and saved effects. But we were to wait the pleasure of the better funds. I am receiving and cash money orders to pay the men, have opened offices over the bay above, the earthquake wrecked all the brick and stone buildings and the cleaned out the wooden ones. The earthquake broke all the water pipes, and a tall light wire, the gas pipes are strewn with wreckage every street is dangerous and impassable. The bursted gas-pipes were giving forth gas and the consequent was the fire. The fire started near hotel, burned to within half a block of us and then swept east, and changed around and came back in two blocks of our hotel. The seemed a providence over this city and if there were a decent highway two nights and three days and then I was put to work on the streets. Really, no people could have better, bear up more bravely and smile at adversity so cheerfully and with hearts so strong for the future as the Californians. I love a brave people and the Californians are my people. So, dear Dr., we have had our share, but we could stand more without being unnerved. But we can get along more easily without shock or fire in the future. Remember us to our Janesville friends and tell them that California is still the land of promise. Etc."

Sheboygan's Pride Is Pardonable.

Sheboygan, Journal.—The German race is proverbially charitable. People of German descent appear to inherit the characteristic. It is shown in the generous poor fund of the city of Sheboygan, and in other provisions made by the city and county for its indigent and infirm.

But the generosity of the German-American never was better shown than by the way in which Sheboygan residents have contributed toward the San Francisco relief fund. Sheboygan has outstripped almost every city in the state outside of Milwaukee, in the amount of money and supplies it has donated. One man, Dr. Hoehne, in two and a half days collected $1,320. The total value of all contributions probably will reach over $1,000. It is a fine showing for a city which the knackers persist in declaring is "only a country town."

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work, some in their homes, some in church, and some in the world of industry. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws: all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity of suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells woman how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I suffered miserably for several years with female irregularities. My back ached; I had bearing-down pains, and frequent headaches.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeded Where Others Fail.

I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health.

Miss Pearl Ackers, of 337 North Summer Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, and pain across the abdomen; was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month.

My physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

The Brethren

CHAPTER VI.

THE fourth day after Wulf's visit to Southminster was Christmas morning, and the weather being bad, Sir Andrew and his household did not ride to Stangate, but attended mass in Steeple church. Here after service, according to his custom on this day, he gave a largess to his tenants and villeins and with it his good wishes and a caution that they should not become drunk at their Yuletide feast, as was the common habit of the time.

"We shall not get the chance," said Wulf, as they walked to the hall, "since that merchant Georgios has not delivered the wine of which I hoped to drink a cup tonight."

Then they went into the hall, and, as had been agreed between them, together the brethren gave their Christmas gifts to Rosamund. She thanked them prettily enough, and much admired the beauty of the work.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon a servant came into the hall to say that a wain drawn by three horses and accompanied by two men, one of whom led the horses, was coming down the road from Steeple village.

"Our merchant—and in time after all," said Wulf, and followed by the others, he went out to meet them.

"Your pardon, knights," Georgios said as he scrambled nimbly to the ground. "The roads in this country are such that, although I have left nearly half my load at Stangate, it has taken me four long hours to come from the abbey here. Still here we are at last, and, noble sir," he added, bowing to Sir Andrew, "here, too, is the wine that your son bought of me."

"My nephew," interrupted Sir Andrew.

"Once more your pardon, I thought, from their likeness to you that these knights were your sons."

"Has he bought all that stuff?" asked Sir Andrew, for there were five tubs on the wagon, besides one or two smaller kegs and some packages wrapped in sheepskin.

"No, alas!" answered the Cypriote ruefully and shrugging his shoulders. "Only two of the Mavro. The rest I took to the abbey, for I understood the holy prior to say he would purchase six casks, but it seems that it was but three he needed."

"He said three," put in Wulf.

"Did he, sir? Then doubtless the error was mine, who speak your tongue but ill. So I must drag the rest back again over those accursed roads." And he made another grimace. "Yet I will ask you, sir," he added to Sir Andrew, "to lighten the load a little by accepting this small keg of the old sweet vintage that grows on the slopes of Troilodius."

"I remember it well," said Sir Andrew, with a smile. "But, friend, I do not wish to take your wine for nothing."

At these words the face of Georgios beamed.

"What, noble sir," he exclaimed, "do you know my land of Cyprus? Oh, then indeed I kiss your hands, and surely you will not affront me by refusing this little present?"

"As you will," said Sir Andrew. "I thank you, and perhaps you have other things to sell."

"I have indeed a few embroideries, if this most gracious lady would be pleased to look at them. Some carpets also, such as the Moslems use to pray in in the name of their false prophet, Mohammed." And, turning, he spat upon the ground.

"I see that you are a Christian," said Sir Andrew. "Yet Mohammed I fought against then, I have known many a good Mussulman. Nor do I think it necessary to spit at the name of Mohammed, who to my mind was a great man deceived by the artifice of Satan."

"Neither do I," said Godwin reflectively. "It's true servants should fight the enemies of the cross and pray for their souls, not spit at them."

The merchant looked at them curiously, fingering the silver crucifix that hung upon his breast. "Pardon me, I accept your reproof, who perhaps am bigoted," he said.

Yet had they but known it, this "reproof" was to save the life of many a man that night.

"May I ask help with these packages," he went on, "as I cannot open them here, and to move the cases? Nay, the little keg I will carry myself, as I hope that you will taste of it at your Christmas feast?" Then, twisting the tub from the end of the wain on to his shoulder in such a fashion that it remained upright, he walked off lightly toward the open door of the hall.

"For one not tall that man is strangely strong," thought Wulf.

Then the other casks of wine were stowed away in the stone cellar beneath the hall.

Leaving his servant—a silent, stupid looking, dark-eyed fellow named Petros—to bait the horses, Georgios entered the hall and began to unpack his carpets and embroideries. As Sir Andrew looked at them, remembering his long dead days, his face softened.

"I will buy that rug," he said, "for a truth it might be one on which I lay sick many a year ago in the house of Ayoub at Damascus. Nay, I haggle not at the price. I will buy it." Still recalling his youth, he began to talk of Cyprus, and so time went on until the dark was falling.

Now Georgios said that he must be going, as he had sent back his guide to Southminster, where the men desired to eat his Christmas feast. So the reckoning was paid—it was a long one—and while the horses were harnessed to the wain the merchant borel holes in the little cask of wine and set spigots in them, bidding them all be sure to drink of it that night. Then calling down good fortune on them for their kindness and liberality he made his salaams in the eastern fashion and departed, accompanied by Wulf.

Within five minutes there was a sound of shouting, and Wulf was back again, saying that the wheel of the wain had broken at the first turn, so that now it was lying upon its side in the courtyard. Sir Andrew and Godwin went out to see to the matter, and there they found Georgios wringing his hands.

"Noble knights," he said, "what am I to do? Already it is nearly dark, and how I shall find my way up yonder steep hill I know not. As for the priceless broderies, I suppose they must stay here for the night, since that wheel cannot be mended till tomorrow."

"As you had best do also," said Sir Andrew kindly. "Leave your servant with my people, who will look after him, and come you into the hall and tell me some more of Cyprus till our food is ready, which will be soon. Do not fear for your goods. They shall be placed under cover."

"All unworthy as I am, I obey," answered the obsequious Georgios. "Petros, do you understand? This noble lord gives us hospitality for the night. His people will show you where to eat and sleep, and help you with your horses."

This man, who, he explained, was a Cypriote—a fisherman in summer and a muletier in winter—bowed and, fixing his dark eyes upon those of his master, spoke in some foreign tongue.

"You hear what he says, the silly fellow?" said Georgios. "What? You do not understand Greek, only Arabic? Well, he asks me to give him money to pay for his dinner and his night's lodging. I will explain to him, the pig!" And explain he did in shrill, high notes, of which no one else could understand a word.

"There, Sir Knight, I do not think he will offend you so again. Ah, look! He is walking off; he is sulky. Well, let him alone. He will be back for his dinner, the pig!"

So, Georgios still declaiming upon the shortcomings of his servant, they went back into the hall.

At length 6 o'clock came, and Georgios, having first been taken to the lavatory—it was but a stone-rough—to wash his hands, was led to the dinner, or, rather, to the supper, table, which stood upon a dais in front of the entrance to the solar. Here plates were laid for six—Sir Andrew, his nephews, Rosamund, the chaplain, Matthew, who celebrated masses in the church and ate at the hall on feast days, and the Cypriote merchant, Georgios himself. Below the dais and between it and the fire was another table, at which were already gathered twelve guests, being the chief tenants of Sir Andrew and the reeves of his outlying lands. On most days the servants of the house, with the huntsmen, swineherds and others, sat at a third table beyond the fire, but, as nothing would stop these from growing drunken on the good ale at a feast—and though many ladies thought little of it there was no sin that Rosamund hated so much as this—now their lord sent them to eat and drink at their ease in the barn which stood in the courtyard with its back to the moon.

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. The Defense of Goli.

Exchange: If the defense of Goli, the bank cashier, that he merely obeyed the orders of a superior officer, had been held good by the jury, then there would be little protection left for either bank depositors or bank stockholders. If the bank president could instruct his employees to falsify books and juggle accounts as Bigelow did, and the employees could not be held to any accountability for doing these things, confidence in banks would soon be shaken. Fortunately Goli is not typical of the average bank employee. As a class they have a high appreciation of the trust confided to them and a clear understanding between right and wrong. There are, happily, few of them who would commit forgeries or falsify books simply because a bank official told them to do so.
